

We are eager to share some thrilling news from TerraSite Design. As of October 31, 2025, TerraSite Design has joined Interstate Engineering, a trusted regional engineering and consulting firm with a proud, almost 50-year history across the Upper Midwest.

Interstate Engineering shares the same values and principles as TerraSite Design: integrity, strong work ethic, loyalty, and a commitment to helping others. The alignment of these values makes this acquisition a strong fit for both our staff and theirs.

This partnership will create incredible synergies by bringing together our strengths, expertise, and resources to deliver more robust offerings in civil and structural engineering services, surveying, landscape architecture, funding, planning, and GIS.

We deeply value our professional relationships with your company, founded on trust that has contributed to success for both organizations and look forward to continuing to collaborate with you under the name of Interstate Engineering. With our name change, you can still expect the same attention to detail and quality service from our team. Our superior service and strong relationship with you will remain intact. With more team members, we can expand our services and increase our bench depth. By combining our resources and expertise, we aim to enhance our product offerings and provide you with an ever-greater value. We are committed to maintaining the high standards you have come to expect while introducing new services and innovations that will benefit you.

If you have any questions about the acquisition or transition, please reach out. We're excited about what lies ahead and are eager to continue building success with your team.
